

THE LATE NIGHT CALL

Press text (EN)

Band info

The band of five musicians from Münster moves skillfully between melodic electronic sounds and hard, partly crunching guitar riffs. The songs are catchy, but by no means boring and remind of bands like Paramore or Pvrís. With love for detail and always good for a surprise. The mixture of pop and rock elements is carried by the distinctive voice of front singer Freddy.

With her large vocal range and her unusual accentuation she is exceptional. Sensitive in the softer passages and powerful in the louder songs.

On stage, The Late Night Call creates a very special atmosphere that inevitably touches you. The musicians have a strong stage presence that makes their songs even more dynamic.

Biography

The Late Night Call is a five-piece band from Münster that has been performing together on stage since 2014. Tobias Kintrup, Christopher Kintrup, Frederike Kerner, Sergej Udarcev and Jonas Chrobak found each other as a band the night before their first gig together. Yes, you read correctly: The band only formed the night before their first gig together! Since the band around Christopher and Jonas broke up shortly before a planned gig, the two decided to form a new band without further ado. Still in the same night they made phone calls and were happy about acceptances from To, Fred and Sergej. The five didn't have to think long about the band name, „The Late Night Call“ fit perfectly
